

Plexia & MEDFAR join forces!

July 6, 2020

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you all for your continued support as well as recognize the invaluable service you continue to provide to everyone, especially during this unprecedented time. We are very fortunate to have such passionate, well respected, and knowledgeable users and followers.

Plexia has grown to become a key provider of EMR services in British Columbia and the Yukon. We continue to evolve and grow by working closely with not only our clients but with all various levels of government bodies and health authorities. For the ongoing improvement and streamlining of our EMR platform, we understand it is best achieved by constantly seeking opportunities to expand and strengthen our resources.

We also continue to receive interest to deploy Plexia in other provinces of Canada. We have always envisioned growing beyond our current borders and are proud to announce that our expansion journey begins now.

Over the last year, we have been communicating with and getting better acquainted with MEDFAR Clinical Solutions (www.medfarsolutions.com). They are Quebec's leading EMR solution provider and a leader in the field in international markets. MEDFAR is relentlessly committed to its mission of driving excellence and efficiency in healthcare across the world. MEDFAR provides service to more than 6,000 physicians and 20,000 users in Canada. MEDFAR and Plexia share many similarities in values, vision, and most importantly, focus and care to the success of our clients. Our EMR platforms and technologies are very complementary which allows for tremendous potential for collaboration and innovation.

MEDFAR supports and believes in our team, our approach, and our vision. A merger to unite our teams together and better serve you makes sense, hence we are happy and proud to announce that MEDFAR has acquired Plexia.

With the support of MEDFAR, Plexia will continue to grow and evolve to remain a dominant EMR platform for many years to come. With additional resources, this will further allow Plexia to engage and complete many exciting and important projects/initiatives. Moreover, MEDFAR has technologies that we can draw from, which will help provide new products and a richer Plexia EMR experience for all of its users.

While Plexia is now part of a larger organization, our commitment, dedication, and focus to our clients will not change. Plexia's leadership and staff has supported you all these years and will continue to support you moving forward. We are thrilled with the new products and offerings that will be made possible and available as a result of our combined efforts. All users of both platforms will have access to additional options, features, support, and services to further help clinics engage and care for patients.

This transition will not hinder our ability to deliver our services to you, it will only further improve it. With our collective efforts and resources, Plexia and MEDFAR can now collaborate to more rapidly develop and expand our unique EMR solution across Canada.

On behalf of Plexia and MEDFAR, we thank you for your ongoing support and are most pleased that you bear witness to this exciting and pivotal step in our ongoing journey.

If you have any questions or suggestions with this transition, please don't hesitate to contact myself (wesley@plexia.ca) or Elias Farah (CEO MEDFAR Clinical Solutions at elias.farah@medfarsolutions.com).
